Danfoss' statutory report on corporate governance forms part of the management's review provided in Danfoss' Annual Report 2019, covering the accounting period of January 1- December 31, 2019.

Statutory Report on Corporate Governance 2019

under Section 107b of the Danish Financial Statements Act

This Statutory Report on Corporate Governance represents Danfoss' compliance with Section 107b of the Danish Financial Statements Act. According to this, listed companies are required to disclose whether they are covered by a code on corporate governance (subsections 1-5). As part of their financial reporting, they are also required to describe the main elements of their internal risk management and controls systems (subsection 6) as well as the composition of their management functions and committees (subsection 7).

In November 2014, Danfoss filed a Euro Medium Term Program on the Irish Stock Exchange and is therefore, as of that date, considered a class D company with listed bonds. For that reason, Danfoss has to comply with the rules set out in section 107b, section 1, no. 1-5, of the Danish Financial Statements Act applying to companies with listed bonds, including the exceptions regarding issuers of bonds above EUR 100,000.

As its code of corporate governance, Danfoss follows the recommendations on corporate governance as set out by the Committee on Corporate Governance in Denmark. With a few exceptions, Danfoss complies with these recommendations, which are available on: www.corporategovernance.dk, which is the website of the Committee on Corporate Governance.

Information about the composition of the company's management bodies and the company's control and risk management systems is covered by the independent auditors' report provided in Danfoss' Annual Report 2019.

Annual General Meetings

The Annual General Meeting is the supreme authority in all company matters. General meetings are called by the Board of Directors at no less than two weeks and not more than four weeks' notice by an announcement inserted in a national newspaper as determined by the Board of Directors and by ordinary letter or e-mail to all registered shareholders having so requested. All shareholders are entitled to attend general meetings, upon specific conditions.

The Board of Directors

The Board of Directors approves the overall strategies and targets of Danfoss, appoints and supervises the CEO and CFO, and defines the guidelines for the CEO and CFO on the day-to-day operation of Danfoss. Having the overall responsibility for the company's activities, it is important that Danfoss has a dynamic and professional Board of Directors, whose members possess the knowledge and experience necessary to ensure the Group's long-term performance. The members of the Board of Directors are presented in the Annual Report and on the Group's website: ☺ www.danfoss.com

The Board of Directors consists of seven shareholder-elected and four employee-elected members. The shareholder-elected members are elected at a general meeting for the term until the following year's Annual General Meeting (AGM) to the effect that all shareholder-elected members may stand for re-election at each AGM. When searching for new members, the Board of Directors considers a candidate's qualifications relative to how they match the company's needs and the combined qualifications and general composition of the Board overall.

Pursuant to the Danish Companies Act, employees in Denmark are entitled to elect a number of members and alternates to the Board, corresponding to half the number of shareholder-elected board members. Danfoss' four employee representatives have the same rights, obligations and responsibilities as the shareholder-elected board members, and they serve on the Board of Directors for terms of four years and may stand for re-election. The most recent election of employee representatives was held in a secret ballot in 2018. The election took effect as of the AGM held in April 2018. If an employee representative ceases to be employed by Danfoss, he or she must resign from the Board.

The Board of Directors appoints a chairman and one or two vice-chairmen from among its members. All appointments are for terms of one year. At least five Board meetings are held each year, one of which is held in connection with a visit to one of the Group's sites. Matters discussed at Board meetings are decided by a simple majority of votes, and in the event of an equality of votes, the Chairman has the casting vote.

The CEO and CFO normally attend the meetings of the Board of Directors, unless the Board of Directors is reviewing matters pertaining to the CEO and CFO. The distribution of tasks between the Board of Directors and the CEO and CFO is set out in the rules of procedure, which are reviewed on an ongoing basis.

Audit Committee

In Danfoss, the entire Board of Directors performs the function of the audit committee. In connection with Board meetings, the Board of Directors also holds Audit Committee meetings four times a year.

The main objectives of the Audit Committee are to:

- Monitor the financial reporting process (reliable reporting)
- Supervise the efficiency of the company's internal control system and risk management systems
- Monitor the statutory audit of the financial statements, etc.
- Monitor and verify the auditors' independence, cf. Section 24 of the Danish Act on State-authorized and Registered Public Accountants, including, in particular, the provision of additional services to the company
- Monitor the external auditors' competencies and findings
- Make recommendations to the Board regarding the appointment of auditors.

Internal audit

Danfoss has decided to set up an internal audit function to carry out independent internal compliance checks. The internal audit function submits its findings to the Audit Committee on a quarterly basis, and to the Group Executive Team (GET) on a monthly basis.

CEO and CFO

The company's CEO and CFO are the company's registered officers and signatories with the Danish Business Authority. They are appointed by the Board of Directors and are accountable for the management of the Danfoss Group towards the Board of Directors. The CEO and CFO have the overall responsibility for the day-to-day operations of the company and delegates areas of responsibility and decision-making powers to the company's business segments and corporate functions in accordance with guidelines and legislation.

According to the rules of procedure, the CEO and CFO are responsible for the Group related governance activities, such as Board of Directors meetings, business reviews, legal matters and other formal governance topics.

Group Executive Team

The Group Executive Team (GET) is Danfoss' top management team and consists of the CEO, CFO and the Presidents of the four business segments. The members of GET are presented in the Annual Report and on the Group's website: www.danfoss.com. The GET holds formal meetings regularly. The GET focuses on strong ownership and execution of the company's strategy and performance management, and it handles the day-to-day responsibility for the Group's operations.

Statement of internal control and risk management systems in the financial reporting process

The Board of Directors, together with the GET, have the overall responsibility for the Group's risk management and internal controls in the financial reporting. This includes compliance with all relevant legislation and regulations. Corporate governance in Danfoss is based on Danish law and the company's Articles of Association, corporate values and a large number of internal management and control procedures and processes.

The Board of Directors and the CEO and CFO establish and approve the overall policies, procedures and controls in relation to significant parts in the financial reporting process, including IT, tax matters and accounting estimates. The CEO and CFO oversee that relevant legislation and other instructions and provisions applicable to financial reporting are complied with and reports accordingly on an ongoing basis to the Audit Committee. Enforcement of the policies and procedures is based on clear principles for delegation of responsibility, including clear reporting structures, authorization and validation procedures. These policies and procedures are mandatory for all Danfoss entities, areas and functions worldwide.

Danfoss' consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and Danish disclosure requirements as set out in the Danish Financial Statements Act. Danfoss has set up internal control and risk management systems to ensure that its financial reporting complies with the above-mentioned rules, containing following categories:

- Control environment
- Risk assessment
- Control structure
- Information and communication
- Monitoring

Control environment

The most significant policies and procedures related to financial reporting include: Accounting and Controls Manual (containing accounting policies, methods and requirements on key internal controls), the Treasury Manual, the Tax policy, the IT security policy and the Ethics Handbook.

The purpose of the control activities is to prevent, detect and correct any errors or irregularities, as well as ensuring that applied estimates are reasonable under the circumstances. In order to ensure efficient controls, Danfoss applies three lines of defense, as shown in the overview.

Risk assessment

A description of general risk management at Danfoss is provided in Danfoss' Annual Report 2019, in the section on Risk Management and Compliance. Note 27 "Critical accounting estimates" in the annual report sets out the areas which pose the most significant risks of misjudgment.

On an ongoing basis, the CEO and CFO and the Audit Committee evaluate the risks considered to have a potential impact on the Group's financial reporting. Quarterly, such evaluations are performed during the business review meetings between the CEO and CFO and each segment. The risks are treated according to their potential impact and likelihood. At least once a year, the CEO and CFO and the Audit Committee perform a general assessment of the risks related to the financial reporting, including the risk of fraud, mitigating measures, as well as assessment of management override.

Control structure

Danfoss' Corporate Standards describe the requirements that apply to the accounting systems. Those standards are revised and improved as and when considered necessary.

The company's subsidiaries report financial information for use in the annual report and in interim announcements in a shared reporting environment. The reporting by the subsidiaries is checked on an ongoing basis, and procedures have been set up to ensure that any errors or inadequacies in the data reported are communicated to and corrected by the subsidiaries timely. Danfoss' standards related to accounting and controls have been prepared in order to enable uniform and reliable reporting, which uphold the quality of the Group's financial statements. Corporate Finance supervises and verify to ensure that the reports comply with these corporate standards. Furthermore, the internal audit function performs random assessments on the reporting as well as on the controlling process to minimize the risk of fraud and misreporting.

Information and communication

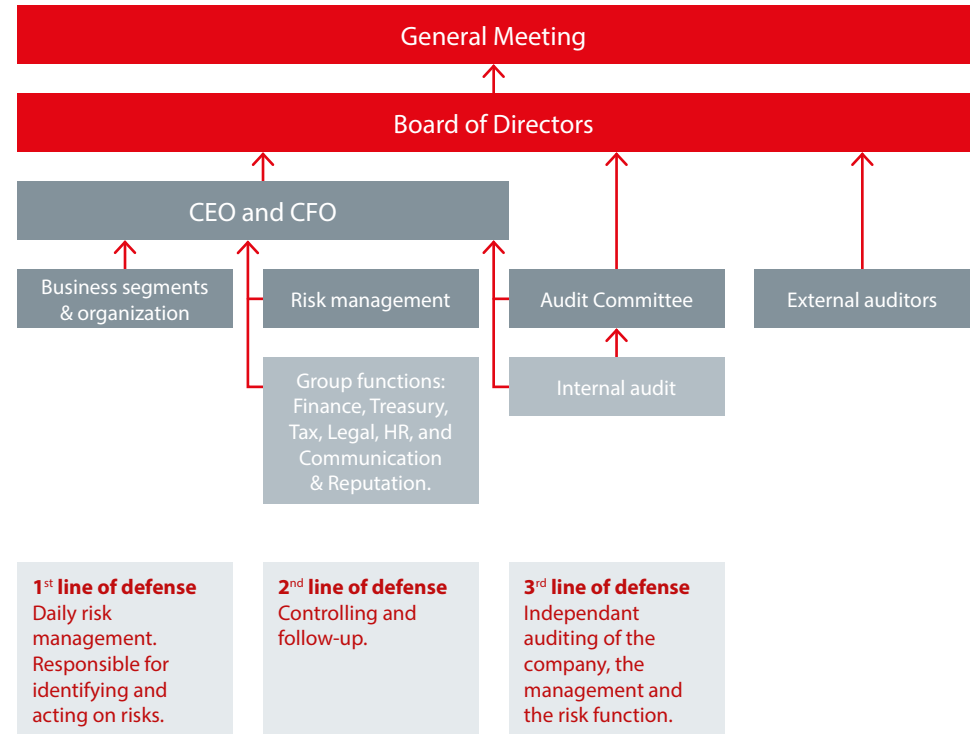

Danfoss' corporate standards, policies and procedures are available for all employees on the Group's intranet. Specific finance policies, guidelines and instructions can be found on the Corporate Finance intranet site. All changes to legislation and regulations are communicated regularly and timely to all reporting responsible by using several means of communication, such as email, internal newsletter and internal social media.

Monitoring

The segments monitor the transactions from a business perspective, whereas the corporate functions monitor the transactions from a legal perspective. Danfoss' Corporate Finance function performs a series of controls over the subsidiaries' financial reporting, in regard to finance and tax reporting matters.

On a monthly basis, Corporate Finance reports on issues identified in the most recent monthly reporting. Additionally, the Internal Audit function performs a series of audit visits to selected subsidiaries in order to verify compliance with Danfoss' standards, policies, procedures, internal controls, including IT general controls. Monthly, the audit issues identified are reported to the GET.

Corporate governance recommendation

The following pages comprise Danfoss' position on the Recommendations on Corporate Governance issued by the Committee on Corporate Governance on November 23, 2017, in Denmark.

With a few exceptions, Danfoss has opted to follow the guidelines which apply to publicly-traded companies in Denmark. However, Danfoss is a family and foundation owned company with bonds listed at the Irish Stock Exchange and is as such not subject to the same disclosure requirements as companies with listed shares.

Danfoss' approach to the recommendations is based on the "comply or explain" principle, which means that we explain the reasons for any deviations, cf. section 107b of the Financial Statements Act. Failure to comply with a recommendation is not considered a breach of rules, but merely implies that the Board of Directors has chosen a different approach.

The recommendations below mention "Executive Board", which refers to a company's registered officers and signatories with the Danish Business Authority. In Danfoss, this relates to the CEO and CFO.

1.3. Takeover bids
1.3.1. The Committee recommends that the company set up contingency procedures in the event of takeover bids, from the time that the board of directors has reason to believe that a takeover bid will be made. 2.3.2. The Committee recommends that, if the board of directors, in exceptional cases, asks the chairman of the board of directors or other board members to perform special activities for the company, including briefly participating in the day-to-day management, a board resolution to that effect should be passed to ensure that the board of directors maintains its independent, general management and control function.
